From Our Chair

Trisha Rogers

Thank you, UNA Canterbury, for hosting an energising LASER Summer Council, examining refugee issues, locally, nationally and internationally. We were delighted to meet some inspiring refugees as we learned about the remarkable range of support provided by local voluntary organisations, helping these traumatised people with their legal, practical and emotional challenges. Elizabeth Ruddick from UNHCR then reminded us of the global framework for such activities, based on the 1951 UN Convention on the Status of Refugees, updated in the 2018 UN Global Compact on Refugees, which recognised that “sustainable solution to refugee situations cannot be achieved without international cooperation”. It was salutary to be reminded that more than three quarters of refugees are hosted in low and middle income countries, the vast majority of refugees staying in countries neighbouring their own.

The fact that France and Germany each receive more than twice the number of asylum seekers of the UK also contradicts the ‘UK invasion’ rhetoric being used by government ministers. Both the 2022 UK Nationality and Borders Act and the currently debated Illegal Migration Bill include several breaches of our commitments under International Law, such as criminalizing and penalizing or making stateless some asylum seekers. Those of us committed to the UN framework and to international cooperation must ensure that our government meets its obligations in supporting those seeking asylum here. We can join campaigns on these issues.

We were reminded, too, of the strong links between LASER’s current issues of concern. In particular, climate change is often a driver of both displacement and of conflict, adding an urgency to meeting our commitments under the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (see our campaign below). The continuing reduction of our overseas aid budget drastically endangers our meeting our obligations both for refugees and for climate change mitigation, as well as for providing humanitarian assistance and life improvements for the world’s most disadvantaged people. Please continue to support our aid campaign.

Campaigns

The Lead-Up to COP28

The recent resignation of Lord Zac Goldsmith, whose ministerial portfolio included Energy, Climate Change and the Environment, reminded us that the government is slipping on its climate change commitments. Briefed here by our Campaigns Officer, Valeria Minisini, we must all urge our MPs to keep up the pressure to:

- phase out fossil fuels;
- protect global food systems;
- connect the climate and biodiversity crises;
- meet our commitments to recognise the needs of all people (particularly the world’s poorest and most vulnerable) in the mitigation of climate change

Environment

Huge congratulations to those who took part in this year's Great Big Green Week, the UK's biggest celebration of community action to tackle climate change and protect nature. This highlights video shows the breadth of activity throughout the week, which might inspire you for future action!

Branches

Activities

Areas of recent branch activities have included: work with schools; addressing hunger around the world; the needs and rights of asylum seekers, human rights at sea; biodiversity; local carbon footprints; peace-making and peace-keeping; Israel and the Palestinians; SDGs. Most of these were speaker events, but there were also Model United Nations General Assemblies, campaigning meetings, film sharing and debates, as well as some remarkable articles on websites like these of UNA Westminster. Congratulations on an impressive range of expertise, awareness raising and action! Let us know of other activities that you'd like to share.

Governance

Branch governance is another important focus of concern. A crucial task that is easily neglected is succession planning. Some branches find that working with local branches of like-minded organisations – both those focusing on particular issues (like Amnesty, Oxfam, Campaign Against the Arms Trade, Refugee Council. or Friends of the Earth) and those focusing more widely on international affairs (like Rotary, faith and belief groups or local colleges and universities) – can be an effective way of engaging new people, possibly as committee members and future leaders. Do contact us if you would like support in taking any of this forward.
